

LINDA E. KOBEL

President & CEO

Los Alamos Technical Associates, Inc.

Jul 2012 - Present

Linda Kobel, Los Alamos Technical Associates (LATA) President & CEO, has over 30 years of commercial and government experience in progressive leadership roles. In partnership with the LATA Board of Directors, she is currently responsible for the mission, vision and profitability of LATA. Before being appointed President and CEO in March 2016, she led LATA's Energy & Nuclear Division responsible for managing all Department of Energy and Commercial Nuclear Business Development and related projects. She is currently serving a three-year term as a member of the EFCOG Board of Directors.

Prior to joining LATA, Ms. Kobel was the President of Enercon Federal Services recruited to start-up this newly formed wholly-owned subsidiary of Enercon, Inc. Ms. Kobel's career began in 1980 with the Institute of Nuclear Power Operations where she was promoted five times over her tenure. In 1990, she was hired to lead the human resources, government billing, training, security and information technology activities for United Energy Services, an 800+ employee wholly-owned subsidiary of Gilbert Associates. From 2008 to 2011, she served as Senior Vice President for EnergySolutions supporting both the Portsmouth Environmental Remediation and Uranium Disposition Services prime contracts as Business Manager. In 1994, Ms. Kobel co-founded a successful operations and management consulting company, Link Resources, managing projects for fossil and nuclear utilities, the Department of Energy, health care, and public relations clients through 2007.

Education

Kennesaw State University

BBA