2025 Training Working Group Annual Meeting
Hosted by: Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory
Conference Dates: March 25-27, 2025
Livermore, California USA

We are seeking dynamic, engaging, and knowledgeable presenters & panel members for the 2025 Training Working Group Annual Meeting.

AUDIENCE:

The conference audience consists primarily of Training professionals, from entry-level contributors to senior level management from the Department of Energy (DOE) facilities and projects.

CRITERIA:

Proposals should be for a 45-minute presentation that is interactive, creative, dynamic, and features best practices. The presentation can be for a general session, breakout session, or workshop. The presentation timeframe includes introductions, presentation material, and a question-and-answer session. Attendees should leave with specific knowledge and skills related to the topic and with motivation to apply it to their daily work activities. Presentations should refrain from promoting a specific business, product, or service. Group sessions, breakout sessions, and workshop content should be geared to a level that is appropriate for the target audience.

SESSION FORMATS:

A variety of presentation formats are desirable at the conference and may include lecture format, panel presentation, or roundtable discussions. Handouts may be appropriate, depending on the complexity of the topic. Presenters are responsible for providing copies of handouts and any equipment that will be used during the presentation, including laptops or iPads. We strongly encourage speakers to use proven adult learning techniques that engage adult learners. As able, encourage participation through discussions, case studies, and hands-on activities.

Although the meeting offers virtual attendance, it is preferred speakers be in-person.
