

Juan Alvarez

Candidate Statement

As a Battelle Executive Vice President, Juan oversees a portfolio of seven DOE national laboratories, bringing over 30 years of experience as a DOE contractor to the table. His previous roles as an EFCOG vice chair and chair of the National Laboratory Chief Operations Officers, along with his membership in the DOE Laboratory Operations Board, have provided him with a profound understanding of the challenges faced by DOE and the contractor community. Juan has a long-standing history of collaboration and developing enterprise solutions to address these challenges. If elected to another term as an EFCOG director, he will leverage these insights to work alongside his fellow board members in crafting a strategic plan aimed at increasing efficiencies and enhancing the impact of DOE and contractor operations. Juan is grateful for the trust of the company EFCOG represents and is committed to effectively representing their interests.
